

The Road Trip

by Carey Helmink

Theme or Scripture Basis God's guidance, God's Word

Synopsis The teens are on a road trip to a concert. Along the way they discuss how to get there and who knows the way. This skit is an illustration of how sometimes when we have the answers in front of us in the Word of God we still tend to rely more on what others tell us.

SUE I can't believe we're going to the Carole Boyl concert in Crossroads. Kim, I'm still in shock that your mom and dad let you drive and that they let you take us with you.

KIM It is kind of amazing isn't it. In my family, it pays to be trustworthy.

TOM My parents would be scared to death if I were driving.

KIM I think that says more about your driving than about your parents.

TOM Heh heh (sarcastically)... Okay, so who has the directions to this place?

BEN I've got 'em. I'm the designated navigator for the evening. If you want to get to where you're going - I'm your man. Follow my directions and I'll lead you straight to Crossroads. I'm the captain, the chief, the leader, the...

SUE Are you about finished?

BEN Yeah. Sorry, so we're gonna drive for about 10 miles before we take exit 223 off of the interstate.

TOM We're on the interstate?

KIM Anyone want to take a wild guess at why we didn't give Tom the navigator position?

TOM When did we get on the interstate?
